Week Two of a Six Part Offering

The Beauty and Fullness of Faith

In this second week of bringing attention to the wealth of information and inspiration from our free online Catholic resource on www.Formed.org, I would like to recommend two programs. The treasures of the Catholic faith are enormous. The two programs on FORMED that you don't want to miss are Bishop Robert Barron's "Catholicism" and Steve Ray's "Footprints of God".

Catholicism

This series is an audio visual masterpiece. Bishop Barron takes the depth of the Catholic faith and presents it in an entertaining and understandable manner. He tackles the timeless existential questions of our times and reveals how the Church lives out those questions under backdrop of the Church's shrines and holy sites throughout the world.

Footprints of God

In this series, Steve Ray, who presented here at the Cathedral in 2015, hosts an online pilgrimage to the sites where the great saints of the Church walked and gave witness. Steve is a wealth of information and stories of how the patriarchs and figures of the bible walked the land and formed the Christian worldview which endures for all time.
